$12,000,000 DECLINE IN GOLD BAR SHIPMENTS

Big Drop Accounts For Decreased Exports To America

CONSUL'S REPORT

First Half Of 1922 Shows $21,654,767 Total From Shanghai

A decrease of $15,543,488 in declared exports from Shanghai to the United States, accounted for mainly by a falling off of almost $12,000,000 in gold bar shipments, is noted in the semi-annual compilation made public by the United States Consulate-General yesterday. The report covers the period, January 1 to June 30, 1922, as compared with the first six months of 1921. It shows a total of declared exports to the United States of $21,654,797 for the six months, as compared with $15,543,488.

The most striking decrease recorded in the detailed returns is in the matter of gold bars. In 1921, gold bars weighing 729,294 ounces and valued at $14,146,685 were sent to America from Shanghai whereas in the first six months of this year, gold bar shipments were only 135,770 ounces valued at $2,768,853. Shipments of gold coins were $651,400 in the first six months of this year, as compared with $841,965 last year.

RETURNS HIGH

Exports to the Philippines amounted to $515,221 as against $608,333 last year, a decrease of $93,112, and exports to Hawaii fell from $56,177 to $35,184. At the same time American goods returned to the United States because of being unsaleable, defective or other causes increased in amount from $134,205 to $419,127. One shipment of books valued at $2,385 was defective, and one shipment of kerosene valued at $51,087 was discolored. All other items were because of poor business conditions here making cancellations or refusal of shipments necessary.

Decreases are noted in many articles of importance in the Shanghai-United States trade. Antimony regulus, crude and oxide shipments all were less, the principal item, antimony regulus, dropping from 6,345,720 pounds valued at $212,306 in 1921 to 3,668,400 pounds valued at $122,298 the first six months of this year.

PORCELAINS DECREASE

Porcelains, jade and other ornaments and pictures and paintings also showed decreases but all other classifications of art works showed an appreciable increase. The decrease in porcelains from $23,435 to $4,122 was the most noticeable.

Albumen fell from 94,000 pounds, valued at $35,281 in 1921 to nil this year. Cotton laces and embroideries decreased in export from $1,468,206 to $1,226,766. Exports of fresh eggs dropped from 741,430 dozens valued at $135,598 to 216,000 dozens valued at $27,521, and dried eggs dropped from 1,655,816 pounds valued at $414,811 to 1,254,351 pounds valued at $504,805.

Egg products (frozen) dropped from 3,684,150 pounds valued at $352,806 last year to 3,364,490 pounds valued at $391,599 this year, the increase in price more than making up for the smaller quantity. Gold bars registered one of the greatest drops, going from 729,294 ounces valued at $14,146,685 last year to 135,770 ounces valued at $2,768,853 this year.

Shelled and unshelled peanuts also show big decreases. Shelled peanuts show a decrease of from 1,759,960 pounds valued at $61,476 to 168,100 pounds valued at $7,250, and unshelled nuts dropped from 466,480 pounds valued at $14,156 to 130,000 pounds valued at $4,391. Only 651,400 pieces of coins were exported as compared with 841,965 pieces shipped to the United States last year.

HAIR NETS DROP

The exportation of hair nets decreased slightly, $1,352,148 worth being shipped last year against $1,190,851 this year.

Mah jongg exports appeared on the reports for the first time.

Thinks Germs Killed Gov. Parkhurst

Gov. Frederick H. Parkhurst, late.

MRS. Dorothy W. Parkhurst, of Bangor, Maine, widow of Governor Frederick H. Parkhurst, of Maine, has entered suit against the Employers' Liability Assurance Corporation, Ltd., for $7,500 on a policy held by her husband. She alleges her husband died of septic pneumonia brought on by diphtheritic germs that, she declares, were introduced into his throat on a clinical thermometer used by physicians in examining him for a policy in another insurance company.

American Is Named Survey Engineer For Yangtsze River Work

Mr. George G. Stroebe, Former Army Officer In The Philippines, Leaves Peking To Study Waterway

Mr. George G. Stroebe has been engaged by the Technical Committee of the Yangtsze River Commission to survey the Yangtsze River preparatory to the improvement of this great waterway of China. A party consisting of Mr. van der Veen, member of the committee, Mr. T. C. Shoung, chief secretary of the commission and Mr. Stroebe in the capacity of the chief survey engineer, has left Peking for Hankow to make a study of the river. The party will go down the river from Hankow to Shanghai, and at Nanking will be joined by Mr. Yang Pao-ling, another member of the committee.

An office will be established at Shanghai in charge of Mr. Stroebe to carry on the survey work. The head office is at Peking. After sufficient hydrologic data has been collected about the river, Mr. F. Palmer, the world-known hydraulic engineer, who made a trip to China last year, will come out again from England to study the river and give his expert opinion with regard to the improvement of it. The importance of collecting enough data upon which a comprehensive scheme for the improvement of the river can be safely based is generally admitted.

COMMITTEE MAKE-UP

The Technical Committee of the Commission under which the survey work would be undertaken was organised in May. Its members are Mr. H. van der Veen, adviser of the Ministries of the Interior and Communications; Mr. Yang Pao-ling, well known Chinese hydraulic engineer; Mr. H. von Heidenstam, chief engineer of the Whangpoo River Conservancy; Mr. Chow Zian-yien, principal technical expert of the Ministry of the Interior; Captain T. J. Eldridge, coast inspector of the Customs, Mr. Sun Ping-wang, chief of the Kiang-hwai Surveying Bureau, and Mr. Chen Shih-li, chief of the engineering department of the Ministry of the Interior, who was unanimously elected chairman of the committee on account of his experience and seniority. All of the members are technical men of recognised ability.

Sir Francis Aglen, inspector-general of Customs, Mr. Sun Pao-chi, director-general of the Customs Administration, and Mr. Kao Ling-wei, former Minister of Finance and Minister of the Interior, have given the undertaking much encouragement, and have done everything within their power to make it a success.

WAS IN PHILIPPINES

Mr. Stroebe, who has been engaged by the Technical Committee as Chief Survey Engineer, has been in the Philippine Government service for more than twelve years as hydraulic engineer. His work in the Philippines has been the design of irrigation, river and harbor works, and municipal water supply. Prior to his joining the Philippine service, Mr. Stroebe graduated from the University of Chicago in 1900 and the University of Michigan in 1904, and subsequently taught civil engineering in the latter university for four and one-half years. Before coming to the Philippine Islands he worked for the United States Reclamation Service, which does all the government irrigation work. He also worked for the Canadian British Company as a bridge designer.

When the United States declared war upon Germany, Mr. Stroebe enlisted immediately and was assigned to the engineers' officers training school at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. He was commissioned captain of engineers, and served in the Philippine Islands where at the close of the war he was colonel of the regiment of engineers of the First Philippine Division of the United States Army.

TO FETE STUDENTS GOING TO AMERICA

American Returned Students' Club Host At Tea Tomorrow

The first group of Tsing Hua College students who are sailing on the liner President McKinley on July 16 will be guests at a tea party to be given by the American Returned Students' Club tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock. About 30 will form the first group, which was left over by the college last year on account of lack of transportation accommodations.

Another group will sail on the Nanking on August 15. Local organisations will join in giving this delegation a rousing send-off. A number of privately supported students are also leaving on the Nanking.

-:- True! -:-

By Westa

THE trouble with this story is that nobody will believe it. That is, nobody will believe it today, but wait—

Tomorrow, unless Mr. G. H. Parkes, boxing instructor in the Shanghai Public School, is still so excited that he's running around in circles like he was last night (in which pastime he was perfectly justified) we will have an actual photograph with which to put meat on the wordy skeleton which, unhappily, is all we can offer you today.

So, lacking the photograph, we will tell the story in our own words, and don't think you are going to collar us today and tell us that when Baron Munchausen read that story he kicked the lid off his coffin and turned sixteen back flip flops—don't think you are going to tell us that today, for today, pending the making of that photograph, we will be hiding down in the deepest, darkest corner of the coal bin.

Well, last night about nine o'clock the estimable Mr. Parkes ropped into the office and leaped upon one of the desks, vaulting lightly from there to the top of another desk, and from there back to the floor, repeating this strange performance several times, in the meantime making strange noises with his throat, as though he were trying to speak. Summoning all the office boys and coolies we finally captured Mr. Parkes and held him, and by listening very carefully we discovered that he was saying, over and over again:

"Tra la! tra la! The flowers they boom in the spring! Boom! boom! Tra la! tra la! The flowers——"

A LIVE WHALE

Just then, who should come staggering right into the middle of the office but a ricsha coolie with a live whale in his arms?

Yes sir, a whale that was alive and kicking! The coolie dumped it on the floor and right away it began to flop in every direction, lashing right and left with its tail, and sending the astonished office boys spinning on their ears.

Finally, by summoning the entire composing room crew, we got the whale into a corner, and by piling a couple of desks and a flock of typewriters on his back, kept him quiet.

"What thing?" we asked with our scant remaining supply of breath after the excitement had died down, and addressing Mr. Parkes, "What side you catch that whale?"

"Whale!" he repeated. "That isn't a whale, you idiot!

Carefully lifting a corner of one of the desks under which the whale was flattened we took another look, keeping well out of range of the still furious tail

"That isn't a whale?" we asked.

"Certainly not," replied Mr. Parkes, who by now had calmed considerably. "Thats a carp!"

"A carp?"

"Certainly, a carp!"

"Oh, very well," we said, finally, after noting the wild look in the boxing instructor's eye, and reflecting that of all the guys in Shanghai with whom we wanted an argument a boxing instructor was absolutely dead last on the list,

THE WHALE'S HISTORY

"Very well, Mr. Parkes, would you mind sketching the recent history of this wh—this here—er—carp?"

"I caught him this evening in the lagoon in Hongkew park!" began the boxing instructor, with a tremendous effort at calmness. "With a hook and line, too! You see the hook is still in his mouth!"

Sure enough, there was the hook, still in his mouth.

"I got him on my line at half past six o'clock," he continued, "and it was eight when I finally landed him!"

Think of that! He remembered all those details. If we ever got a fish as big as that one on a line we wouldn't know whether it was noon or midnight, today or tomorrow, this week or last, now or next winter, or whether we were standing on our ear or our eyebrow. In fact, if we ever got a fish like that one on a line—oh, well, why try to describe it? There isn't half enough words in all the dictionaries in the world to tell how we'd feel."

"He's three feet, nine inches long from the tip of his nose to the end of his tail," continued Mr. Parkes, "and two feet around his middle!"

There was no doubt about those statistics, except that they seemed woefully inadequate.

"You should have seen the crowd in the park while I was playing him!" went on the narrator. "There were about a million tennis games going on, and a lot of lawn bowls games, and besides there were hundreds of people walking around! Pretty soon they all came running! You would have thought the park was burning down!"

EASY TO UNDERSTAND

We assured Mr. Parkes that the excitement attendant upon the capture of such a fish might easily lead the people to that conclusion.

"I played him just right!" continued Mr. Parkes. "I let him have all the line he wanted! Of course, you know I have very good gear, but the thing is, in landing a fish like that, you have to be very, very careful! Just the least mistake, and he's gone! So I let him ramble! The people were all shouting at me, but I didn't pay any attention to them! I knew that if I played him right I'd land him! So after awhile he began to get tired, just as I knew he would! I was tired, too, but I didn't mind it a bit! I sure did want to land that fish! Gradually I began to tighten up on him, especially after he had taken a long run! You know, you just sort of tug at him a little, to find out if he's weakening! And when you find he's weakening, then's the time to begin fighting him! But you don't want to fight him too much, at first! No sir, he's liable to break your line! So I fought him easy like!"

Mr. Parkes' eyes were glistening. Our eyes were glistening, too. So were the eyes of all the office boys. Mr. Parkes pulled furiously at his pipe, which had been out, probably, three hours or more, blowing out great clouds of smoke between sentences.

ABOUT ALL IN

"After awhile (between smoke clouds from the cold, empty pipe) I got him near the shore! I could see that he was about all in, but I didn't get excited! You must always remember not to get excited when you're playing a big fish like that! The main thing is to keep cool! Finally, my arms were aching, but I hung on! And then, just as I was thinking I couldn't hold out much longer, I took a chance and gave him a good pull! He was weaker than I thought he was, and when I gave him a good, steady pull, he came right in to the shore! And after that it was all over! Detective Sergeant Ross, who was with me, waded out a little ways, and when I pulled him to the surface the sergeant dipped a net under him and with me pulling and him pushing, we landed him out on the bank, flopping and kicking to beat the band! Maybe you think the people weren't excited! I'll say they were!"

Mr. Parkes said he believed the carp was the largest fish ever caught in Shanghai with a hook and line. He also said that if he could find somebody to do it he intended to have it stuffed, after which he would present it to the Royal Asiatic Society.

But what is more important, he said that today—first thing this morning—he would have a photograph taken.

If he doesn't—

G-o-o-d Night!

Lettuce!

It doesn't have to be boiled, cooked or otherwise maltreated.

And you can eat all you jolly well feel like with never a thought of an impending tummy-ache of any sort.

One hundred—count 'em—crates of real American-grown lettuce, crisp, clean, and ready for action at the dinner table, will arrive in Shanghai this afternoon when the Admiral Line S. S. President Jackson moors alongside the China Merchants' Central Wharf at 2:30 o'clock.

The shipment is in the nature of a test to determine the commercial possibilities of transporting quantities of America-grown fresh vegetables to Shanghai and to try out the cold storage facilities of the big Admiral Line vessels. If it is successful, and the Admiral Line agents are more than certain that it will be, Shanghai in the future will have a plentiful supply of imported vegetables almost continuously. Today's shipment is consigned to Connell Brothers, who will act as distributers here.

To Victor And Victim Alike B'long Flowers

By Irene Corbally

If, after the world-famous Dempsey-Carpentier prize fight on July 4th of a year ago, a well-intentioned person of either sex had offered a tribute of flowers to the victor, it is safe to say that there would have been another knock-out. If the donor happened to be of the fairer sex, Jack the Champion Killer would have forgotten for the nonce that he was a gent; if the donor wore the regulation uniform of the sterner sex, Jack would have, undoubtedly, lifted him right out of his coat, vest, silk shirt and other appurtenances of a gentleman and left him with his flowers, in a large grease spot on the canvas.

But in China they do things differently. At the exhibition of boxing, jiujutsu and wrestling in the hastily erected matshed "building" on Scott Road Saturday night, the Chinese boys were kept busy rushing through aisles of perspiring Japanese with ribbon-tied baskets of posies for the puffing huskies sachaying around in the ring. There were no lilies presented or the results, at that, might have been different.

However, the spectacle of a somewhat battered individual, lying pulpily on the floor and taking the count, only to stagger to his feet unsteadily and then stagger off the stage, even more unsteadily, weighted down by his double burden of crushing defeat and the basket of flowers, is one that would make a horse laugh if it weren't for the fact that it is quite the thing here.

TO THE VICTIM, TOO

The generosity of the Saturday night flower-givers was extraordinary. Floral tributes were rushed to victor and victim alike and a careful appraising eye could distinguish no difference in size or quantity of the blooms.

There is precious little amusement in Shanghai in the summer time aside from the daily mosquito chase and the small betting games on the odd or even number of bites one will have tomorrow. An advertised wrestling contest between Japanese and other foreigners promised a combination vaudeville and an exhibition of technique that was delivered with much gusto.

Professor I. K. Seto, of the well-known Turkish bath and massage establishment of the same name, provided the vaudeville. The victors and victims in the various bouts treated the spectators to an exhibition of technique and some things that were far removed from eighth cousinship to technique.

The Professor was referee. He was also announcer and interpreter. He was as busy as a horsefly in a training stable. He rushed from the east corner to the west, then to the north and the south, pausing at each long enough to give out his information in Japanese and English, with gestures.

The Professor never forgets he is a massage and smile artist. While he talks he massages the zone with his hands, and smiles broadly in the general direction of whatever is in front of him.

NOT GOOD AND GOOD

"If anybody give up, not good. If nobody give up, good. If nobody give up three times, even," announced the professor with an expansive sweep of his arms and jaws, as he advertised the regulations governing the wrestling bout between a well-known Japanese jiujutsu exponent and a Russian strong man, built on the lines of the Polish-American Zbysko. The big Russian was a wrestling Nabisco. He breaks chains with his bare hands, and drives nails into wood to their heads, almost, with uncovered fists, rumor has it. His opponent was a powerful Japanese, withal a trifle corpulent.

"This match be very hard," said the professor. "Hard for Japanese wrestle in kimonos. These men, each one, wrestle in their skin, so please excuse."

There was a nervous flutter of apprehension among the feminine spectators and several rose hastily as if they remembered expected telephone messages or the cat left in dangerous proximity to the canary in an amahless room.

However, the hardier ones stayed. And when the two strong men came on——with flowers for they got 'em before and after——they were clad in the conventional tights of the boxing and wrestling arena. The Russian, in addition, wore a tasty set of pink elastic half-hose. They were less than half, really, for they had no feet in them, and they were worn on each knee and just north and south of it.

The match was a difficult one for in Japanese jiujutsu, as in

FREE STATERS ROUNDING UP REBEL FORCES

Resistance To Irish Rule Collapses In All Quarters

(Reuter's Service)

London, July 10.—Free State forces are rounding up the rebels in the provinces and resistance is collapsing in all quarters. The townspeople of Wexford town today welcomed the entry of the National forces with bands and torches. The National forces' humane methods are impressing public opinion in Ireland which is rallying to the side of the Free State while resentment appears to be growing against de Valera. The Provisional Government's determination to hold the Tailteand Games on August 5 at which 30,000 thousand visitors from all parts of the world are expected, is considered the best proof of the optimistic view of the situation.

The funeral of Mr. Cathal Brugha will take place in Dublin today. De Valera might attend. If so, he would be probably arrested.

The headquarters of the irregulars have apparently been transferred from Mallow to Limerick.

BOXER FUND TO BE USED FOR BANQUE INDUSTRIELLE

Chinese Government Signs Agreement With French

SPECIAL CONTROL

China To Retain One-Third Share In New Company

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, July 10.—An agreement was signed yesterday between the French Legation and the Chinese Government for the reconstruction of the Banque Industrielle de Chine by means of the Boxer Indemnity.

The agreement provides for a French company to manage the affairs of the Bank with the managing committee in Peking but under the special control of the Chinese Government provided that China retains one-third share in the company and one-third of the directors being Chinese. The company's capital will be 10,000,000 francs, the company taking 8 percent profits for 23 years.

In view of the fact that the bank's difficulties arose in Europe, henceforth the bank will function only in the Far East.

Far Eastern creditors will be paid in full in gold dollar bonds redeemable in 23 years. European creditors will be paid from the profits within the same period. The company will hand over the affairs to the bank when the liabilities have been paid up and after that the bank will resume control.

Paris, July 9.—A bill for the re-establishment of the Banque Industrielle de Chine was laid on the table in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday by the Finance Minister, M. de Lasteyrie. In accordance with the parliamentary procedure it was handed over to the Finance Committee which will report on it to the House. The Chinese Government, by its prompt acceptance of the scheme submitted by the French Government, made matters much easier.

London, July 9.—A message from Paris says that nothing very serious has yet been done to put the principle of saving the Banque Industrielle de Chine into effect and that Marshal Joffre has been calling attention to the importance of setting that institution on its feet.

With regard to the way in which the Bank's affairs have been conducted by its Paris directorate, the papers of the Right suggest that an elaborate political and financial scandal must eventually be brought to light.

The corruption of Deputies has been hinted at and the word, Panama, has been whispered. It is doubtless necessary to discount some of the suggestions as belonging to violent party warfare which the French carry into such matters with a lack of reticence which is really fundamentally healthy.

Nevertheless, it must be recognised that a more or less direct attempt is being made to involve not only M. Briand but even President Millerand, each of whom when Premier loyally supported M. Berthelot.

New Head Of Commerce Chamber Assumes Office

Mr. Sun Han-chang and Mr. Fan Chiao-peh, newly elected chairman and vice-chairman of the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce, assumed their office yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large number of directors of the chamber. In their speeches, Messrs. Sun and Fan declared that they would carry out their duties strictly in accordance with the regulations governing Chambers of Commerce and that in matters of public importance, absolute publicity will be given.

Reports were made by the outgoing officers and a reception followed the meeting.

BRITAIN HOLDS GRAVE FEARS OF GERMAN CRISIS

Collapse Of Mark To Be Subject Of Cabinet Discussions

(Reuter's Service)

London, July 10.—The diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that grave anxiety is being felt in British circles with reference to the German financial crisis. The Cabinet Committee is at present considering the matter, which will be discussed by the full Cabinet, probably tomorrow. It is difficult to see how, failing the Supreme Council, an early meeting of the Allied Ministers and reparation experts can be avoided. It might be deemed advisable to invite the collaboration of the other signatory powers of the Versailles Treaty than those generally represented on the Supreme Council.

The Times, commenting on the situation says that it is high time Britain and France take sober and ernest counsel together in order that some barrier may be raised against the gathering menace on the fruits of common victory.

London, July 10.—The papers generally voice the alarm at the situation in Central Europe as reflected by the collapse of the German mark now worth less than one-tenth of a penny instead of a shilling when normal. Important official communications are stated to be passing between London, Paris, Washington and Berlin. It is thought in some quarters that German bankruptcy is imminent while some views are in favor of assisting Germany in order to prevent a financial disaster. Others are of the opinion that the situation will never be finally relieved until Germany has passed through actual national insolvency and that outside help with the object of staving it off will be useless.

Cornwall and Devon wrestling, the contestants wear some clothing so as to enable one man to grasp hold of the other. The Japanese wear their kimonos, of course. Cornwall and Devon wrestlers wear strong, loose linen jackets.

A NEUTRAL REFEREE

The Russian and the Japanese had a hard time of it. In fact they slipped all over for they had nothing to grab. The bout was divided into three five-minute periods, with five minutes of rest between each period, during which the Professor waved his arms and towels and played a symphony of encouragement, indiscriminately, on the back and arms of each of the wrestlers. He did this, latter to the accompaniment of much joshing in Japanese, which was translated into "Good work, Professor, $1 one hour," and similar little tid-bits of Oriental humor.

It was a large evening. As the professor said, if nobody give up three times—even. They didn't and, consequently, they were. Most of their wrestling was done separately. The Russian even got facetious and poked his Japanese opponent in the slight bulge under his top rib, which was hardly cricket. However, the Japanese was a match for him, although he was of smaller stature. The cow-bed tinkled its final call and it was all over with neither victor nor vanquished. They walked off amid applause and flowers.

Greensmith Fined On Traffic Charge

Mr. R. E. Greensmith, of David Sassoon and Co., Ltd. was fined three dollars in the British Police Court by Magistrate G. W. King yesterday for disobeying the signal of a Sikh policeman at the corner of Honan and Nanking Roads to stop his car while the traffic going north and south was allowed to pass.

Mr. Greensmith said the summons was served on him seven days after the incident, and he had no recollection of it. He did not hear the policeman shouting out to him to stop his car.

WOMAN'S SLAYER CLINGS TO LIFE; INQUEST OPENED

Sadovnikoff, With Bullet In Brain, Still Living

Hope that Michael Georgevitch Sadovnikoff, who on Saturday shot and killed Mrs. Anna Avierkieva and then put a bullet into his own brain, might survive was held out by attending physicians at the Shanghai General Hospital late last night as the critical hours wore on and the man still clung to life. At midnight, he was reported to be resting comfortably, and physicians declared that, unless an infection sets in within the next two or three days, he stands a good chance of recovering.

The inquest over the body of Sadovnikoff's victim was opened at the Public Mortuary yesterday before Russian Consular Assessor Ivanoff and Magistrate Tsang. The testimony of eye-witnesses of the tragedy, including the stories of Mrs. A. Dezak and Miss Anna Klevko, who were in the Elegante Shop in the Astor House block when Sadovnikoff entered and shot down Mrs. Avierkieva, was taken. The inquest was then continued until Friday at the Mixed Court, pending the outcome of the man's wound.

As the inquiry into the tragedy went on yesterday, allegations were made that the woman and Sadovnikoff had lived together at 3 Astor Road, where he still resided on Saturday. Ten days or so ago, it was said, Mrs. Avierkieva had removed to 315 Avenue Joffre. This, it is believed, may have led to the final quarrel which resulted in her death.

WILL SPEAK ON PUBLIC HEALTH

WU PEI-FU WILL RID KIANGSI OF CANTON INVADERS

Strong Units Being Gathered For Campaign Against Southern Forces

Armed suppression of the Anti-Northern Expeditionary Forces in Kiangsi is now the plan of General Wu Pei-fu, according to a report received here yesterday from private sources. General Wu's return to Loyang is in connection with a general scheme to resort to force in the Yangtsze Province in order that the obstacle to his national reunification plan may not be hampered, says the report.

Now that the first army to reinforce Kiangsi under the command of General Tsai Chen-hsun has completed its transportation, General Wu expects to head the second army, which will be despatched from Loyang under his personal charge. The forces will consist of the division under General Hu Chin-yi, two brigades under General Tsao Shih-yin and Yo Wei-tsing, one brigade stationed at Changchow, Honan, under General Chin Yung-su and the regiment stationed in Shensi under General Sun Chi-fu.

These units will proceed to Hankow and sail down the Yangtsze to Nanchang whence they will be distributed for service. General Wu will personally lead the body-guards of the third division as well as its machine gun company and field gun regiment to Kiangsi in order to oust the Southern forces in occupation there.

It has been suggested to General Wu that since there is dispute in the Southern camp and the Cantonese troops are unable to proceed with its offensive plans in Kiangsi, the Northern Chihli Army should at once take this opportunity of re-establishing its power in Kiangsi by eliminating the invaders from the South.

If the Chihli Army becomes victorious, the South will not be able to negotiate peace terms with the North on equal footings as is the case now. It is feared that the troops of General Tsai Chen-hsun are unable to cope with the situation in Kiangsi on account of the superiority of the fighting units of Generals Hsu Chung-chi and Li Lieh-chun, in command of the anti-Northern forces.

Unless other complications set in, General Wu and his troops will arrive in Hankow within two weeks. Transportation of the soldiery from the various posts to Hankow will take 12 days.

FOR REMOVING SUPERFLUOUS HAIR.

No woman who has any sense of beauty will deny that superfluous hair is one of the greatest drawbacks to good looks.

Realising this, women of all times have put themselves to any expense, and have endured considerable pain and discomfort in order to rid themselves of this great disfigurement.

Nowadays electrolysis is a prevalent "cure" for this evil, but in reality this process involves a great deal of unnecessary expense, waste of time and pain.

The simplest quickest, and most effective treatment can easily be carried out by any sufferer, in the privacy of her home. This is the recipe:

Procure about 1 oz. powdered pheminol from your chemist; mix a sufficient quantity with a few drops of water into a stiff paste. Apply this carefuly and thoroughly to the hair you wish to remove, and allow the paste to dry. In a few minutes it can be gently scraped away. The skin is left absolutely free from hair, and should then be carefully washed in warm water, and if desired, lightly dusted with a little talcum powder. (Advt.)

Rumanian To Be Deported

M. Burto, a Rumanian, convicted in the Mixed Court for stealing a wallet containing Yen 103 and other acts of pickpocketing, was ordered deported to Vladivostok by Assessor Mead and Magistrate Li in the Mixed Court yesterday. Inspector Kay, who appeared for the Police, said that the man's jail sentence had expired and asked that he be sent to Vladivostok. On Burto's plea that he wished to remain in Shanghai to collect money due him, the court declared that the police would look after the collections and forward the money to him.

$12,000,000 Decline In Gold Bar Shipments

sets valued at $10,127 being shipped to the United States during April, May and June. In previous years the number of sets was so small mah jongg was included in an 'others' classification. Mah jongg sets valued at $235 were also shipped to Manila.

Tungsten ore suffered a great decrease, dropping from 893,760 pounds last year to 85,100 pounds this year, and pig iron slumped from 4,550 tons valued at $116,385 last year to 250 tons valued at $7,773 this year. Poultry also dropped greatly, only 23,131 pounds being exported this year as against 109,-281 pounds last year.

DECLINE IN SILKS

Silks registered decreases in all classifications except wild silk, which increased from 279,-972 pounds valued at $687,760 to 488,821 pounds valued at $1,781,817. Raw silk decreased from 2,506,149 pounds valued at $11,878,025 to 735,183 pounds valued at $5,275,662. Waste silk decreased from 822,780 pounds valued at $525,535 to 405,630 pounds valued at $294,-107. Piece goods dropped from $93,945 to $14,627, Pongees fell from $705,361 to $378,916, silk embroideries from $5,998 to $1,606 and miscellaneous manufactures from $53,454 to $25,-648. $17,433 worth of cocoons (pierced) were exported this year as against nil the same period last year.

Skins remained about the same, some classifications slumping, but others increasing the total. The chief decreases were in deer and doe skins, and weasel skins. Deer and doe skins exports dropped from 344,070 pieces valued at $194,397 to 124,848 pieces valued at $80,-054, and weasel skins slumped from 823,344 pieces valued at $366,842 to 663,215 pieces valued at $631,104. The largest increases were shown in goat and kid skins, and mink skins. 2,233,663 pieces of goat and kid skins were exported in 1921 valued at $1,175,825 as against 1,901,874 pieces valued at $2,-062,748 this year.

SEVERAL INCREASES

The export of sheep's wool decreased from 3,913,306 pounds to 3,475,292 pounds and tea fell off almost two and one-half million pounds, dropping from 5,-226,062 pounds valued at $696,-405 in 1921 to 3,379,770 pounds valued at $400,505 this year.

The increases noted in the report are noteworthy. The export of bristles almost doubled 63,320 pounds being exported this year against 25,997 last year. Hog casings also increased approximately 100,000 pounds, from 376,561 to 476,419 pounds. 15,446 square yards of carpets valued at $91,149 were sent to the United States during the first six months of this year against 9,855 square yards valued at $47,127 sent last year.

Crude Camphor took a big jump but refined slumped. The crude product increased to 591,283 pounds from 249,788 pounds, but refined exports decreased from 65,232 pounds to 25,500 pounds. The increase in gallnuts export was also very large, going from 13,440 pounds last year to 137,400 pounds this year, and rhubarb exports jumped from 6,720 pounds last year to 83,776 pounds this year.

RAW COTTON

Raw cotton registered an increase of from 144,536 pounds valued at $24,069 to 213,212 pounds valued at $38,075, but waste cotton exports slumped from 994,778 pounds to 797,872 pounds. One of the interesting increases noted is in electric lamps, 512,600 pieces valued at $36,639 being exported this year as against 200,200 pieces valued at $21,295 last year.

Feather exports were also prosperous, increasing from 758,821 pounds valued at $124,434 to 1,964,803 valued at $370,521. Shelled walnuts exports also increased from 79,925 pounds to 140,603 pounds valued at $32,107 but unshelled nuts slumped from 473,584 pounds to 302,000 pounds.

Buffalo and cow hides also showed notable increases, 12,333 pieces of buffalo hides valued at $38,944 in 1921 jumping to 29,149 pieces valued at $155,733 this year. Cow hide export increased from 3,240 pieces valued at $6,412 last year to 23,500 pieces valued at $54,316 this year. No camphor oil was shipped last year while 148,875 pounds valued at $8,552 was shipped this year, and wood oil showed an enourmous increasing going from 336,438 pounds valued at $26,985 last year to 1,939,899 pounds valued at $168,671 this year.

DENBY TO BOARD HURON IN JAPAN FOR TRIP NORTH

U. S. Asiatic Fleet Flagship Sails To Meet Navy Secretary

Shanghai, today, after several weeks as the home of the American Asiatic fleet, is left with but one representative of the American naval forces, the U.S.S. Isabel, flagship of the Yangtsze patrol squadron. The U.S.S. Huron, flagship of the fleet, sailed yesterday at noon for Nagasaki, where it will take on board Secretary of the Navy Denby and Admiral Strauss and convey them to Chinwangtao, from which place they will go by rail to Peking, and then come by rail to Shanghai.

Admiral Strauss left his flagship here for the Fourth of July celebration, going to Yokohama on the destroyer Alden, accompanied by two aides, Commander F. F. Rogers, Fleet Intelligence Officer, and Lieut. J. B. Waller, Fleet Flag Officer. His other aides are aboard the Huron and will greet the Admiral and Secretary at Nagasaki.

The Huron will return to Shanghai from Chinwangtao under present orders, being in port during the visit of the Secretary and his party of Annapolis graduates and their families.

One Chinese Is Killed; Two Hurt In Samshu Blast

A lighted candle dropped into a jar of samshu at a wine shop at the corner of Amoy and Chekiang Roads Sunday evening resulted in the death of one Chinese and serious injuries to two others. The three were in the shop when the explosion occurred. All were badly burned and sustained cuts from fragments of the jar. They were rushed to the Shantung Road Hospital where one of them died a short time later.

COURT UPHOLDS CONVICTION IN BIG OPIUM HAUL

Stories Of Japanese Fail To Win Freedom For Chinese

Despite the statements of three Japanese, who had themselves appeared in the Japanese Court in connection with the same case, British Assessor Mead and Magistrate Li in the Mixed Court yesterday refused to alter the sentence of six months imprisonment passed on a Chinese broker living at 1243 Wuchow Road as a result of the confiscation of a large quantity of opium in his house.

The Japanese, S. Yoshiga, T. Ohya and G. Nagazawa, had explained to the court that they had refused to give evidence at the previous hearing in the Mixed Court for fear of prejudicing their own cases in the Japanese Court. Yoshiga told the court that he had succeeded in passing the opium through the Customs by calling the attention of the officer to some other luggage and then removing the labels and putting them on the baggage containing the narcotics. He went to the house in Wuchow Road, he said, because he thought there was less chance of discovery if he took morphia to the house of a stranger. The Chinese, he said, was previously unknown to him, and had nothing to do with the smuggling.

Assessor Mead, in confirming the sentence, said that the story of the Japanese witnesses was too doubtful to secure the release of the Chinese accused. It was not possible for the court to believe that the house was, as the Japanese said, the remises of a stranger.

KRASSIN PLEDGES RESTORATION OF PROPERTY RIGHTS

Official Soviet Declarations May Be Considered Null And Void

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, July 9.—The Journal des Debats publishes a telegram from the Hague which states that M. Krassin in the course of an interview with Mr. Lloyd George declared that the official declarations of the Soviet delegation might be considered null and void.

He added privately that it would be possible to restore ninety percent of expropriated private property, although the delegation was obliged officially to refuse to admit it.

The Hague, July 8.—It was expected that the arrival of M. Krassin would result in an acceleration of the business of the Conference but matters have advanced no further as a result of prolonged sessions of the Debt and Private Property sub-commissions, at which the Russians were obdurate in insisting on the grant of credits before they could definitely reply with regard to the payment of debts, which Russia might acknowledge.

There was perfect thrust and parry of question and answer in the Property sub-commission between the non-Russian and Russian members, particularly with M. Litvinoff. When pressed to give details of properties formerly in foreign ownership, M. Litvinoff replied that it was difficult to identify them and it was for the owners themselves to indentify them. Driven into a corner, M. Litvinoff retorted, asking: "What is meant by foreign ownership?" He was forced to admit that the ex-owner would be in the same position as other bidders if the properties were auctioned declaring that it was impossible to grant any concession to a money-less owner even if he had been ruined by the revolution. M. Litvinoff told a Belgian delegate that he could interpret his (M. Litvinoff's) answers as he liked and wound up by complaining that the Russians had been at the Hague for a fortnight, has given all the information required and had got nothing in return. M. Krassin intervened, suggesting that all questions and answers should be put in writing. The sub-commission decided that each side should omit subjects on which they disagreed.

Both M. Litvinoff and M. Sokolnikoff were bombarded with questions on the Debt sub-commission. The questions were at first oral and then handed in writing in order to ease the strain. M. Shokolinoff was searchingly questioned with regard to the origin of the gold figuring in the Budget. He replied that all the funds derived from confiscated Church property had been employed solely to fight the famine.

Both sub-Commissions adjourned until July 11.

HAN KUO-CHUN TO ASSUME POST AS CIVIL GOVERNOR

Obstacles Against Him Are Removed By Dr. Yen And Kiangsu Gentry

(China Press Correspondence)

Nanking, July 8.—All obstacles to prevent Mr. Han Kuo-chun to assume his new appointment as Civil Governor of this province have been practically removed and it is expected that he will shortly come to Nanking to function.

Mr. Han was appointed Civil Governor of Kiangsu some time ago, but he has refrained from accepting the appointment on account of many causes, which include the abundance of office-seekers that have been recommended to him by the Chihli clique, the opposition of certain members of the local gentry, the denial of Generals Tsao Kun and Wu Pei-fu that the appointment was made in accordance with the wishes of the Chihli militarists and the efforts on the part of certain militarists to induce him to become Civil Governor of Shantung.

However, Premier Yen Hui-ching has been moving heaven and earth to send Mr. Han to his new post in order to maintain the dignity of his Cabinet, whose orders have been more or less ignored. The Kiangsu residents in Peking have been also conducting lots of propaganda for Mr. Han, resulting in the removal of most of the obstacles out of the way.

Meanwhile the gentry of Kiangsu have expressed their warm reception for Han for the simple reason that the finance of the province is being unmercifully grabbed by the militarists. The province, considered one of the richest in the nation, is today owing debts amounting to more than $20,000,000 all of which have gone to fatten the pockets of the militarists. It is on the verge of financial bankruptcy and the gentry hopes that the change will relieve the stringency as Han is expected to wrestle the financial rights from the military administration and readjust the entire system.

The financial authorities of this province have become mere tools of the militarists, doing everything they can to please their military superior in order to hold their offices. Negotiations are going on to secure a mortgage from the Shanghai Chinese bankers offering the land taxes of two of the largest districts of the province as security. One of the first matters to be taken with the new Governor by the gentry will be an attempt to stop the signing away of these rights.

The Provincial Assembly has just succeeded in stopping the financial authorities from issuing prize-bearing debentures through the assistance of the Chinese press. The authorities are again contemplating the issuance of some other form of bonds without the sanction of the assembly. Opposition is expected.

According to a telegram received at the Shanghai city Legislature, Mr. Han Kuo-chun, newly appointed Civil Governor of Kiangsu, will leave Tai-an today for Nanking to assume his office.

Red Cross Elects New Officers

The Red Cross Societies of China at a meeting held Saturday elected the following officers:

President, Wang Ta-hsieh: Vice-President (Peking), Admiral Tsai Ting-kan and Vice-President (Shanghai), Yang Tcheng. Wang was former Minister to Japan and at one time Minister of Foreign Affairs, Peking.

Admiral Tsai is Chairman of the Tariff Revision Commission and Co-director of the Chinese Maritime Customs. Mr. Yang Tcheng was formerly Minister to Germany, also at one time Minister to Australia, also at other times Minister to the Netherlands. For a number of years he was Special Envoy for Foreign Affairs, Shanghai.

Tsao Kun Explains Use Of Airplanes

"A BOAT FOR CHILDREN IN A SEA OF MISERY."

Chinese Magistrate's Picturesque Description of Baby's Own Tablets.

Even in the heart of China Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy are known and prized in many homes. Magistrate Tsao Chu Lieh, of Kwangling, Shansi Province, writes concerning them:—

"My one-year old child became sick. His abdomen felt very hard and he cried day and night. I tried to cure him in many ways, but without success until learning of Baby's Own Tablets I got the right remedy. The child recovered after I had given him ten Tablets. Since then I have never failed to give him Baby's Own Tablets whenever he gets ill, and never have failed to effect a cure quickly. Baby's Own Tablets are indeed a good medicine—a Boat for Children in the Sea of Misery!"

For infantile indigestion, constipation, colic, diarrhoea, croup colds, simple fever, teething troubles and worms Baby's Own Tablets are an unequalled remedy. They are guaranteed absolutely safe and harmless even for the youngest infant. Dealers sell them, or post free, 60 cents per vial, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

Radcliffe's Homer Spells Defeat For Locals In Sunday's Contest

BY WESTA

Doc Radcliffe, able seaman in Uncle Sam's navy, ordinarily is a peaceful, unoffending citizen. But doll him up in a uniform and put a baseball bat in his hands, and take it from us: the only safe place for the opposition is the old cyclone cellar. Put a baseball bat in that bird's hands and he's a bludgeoning, bellipotent, behemoth of busterino.

In Sunday's game at the racetrack between Shanghai and the Hurons this baby banged one that by this time must be ha'way to Ha'waya. It was a slam that Buster Brown or Julius Rosenfeld could have got around the bases on without a call for a slide or even a sprint that would have left them more than half deflated.

Blow? Bo, you can announce to the world and all the way stations that it was the bustiferest blow that ever rattled off a bat in Shanghai.

"There goes the old ball game," said the customers, and sure enough, there it went, hook, line and sinker. The last seen of Wynn, who was left gardening for Shanghai at the time, he was paddling around in a rowboat in the Straits of Formosa, looking for the ball, his salty tears swelling that already salty sea.

LAMPE SCORES

Lamke, who was on second when this 'omeric 'it 'urdled the 'ouses back of the racetrack, trotted in with the run that broke the tie from which the two teams had struggled to extricate themselves after Shanghai put over a run in their half of the ninth, and when Doc checked in at the pay window on his homerun smash the sailors had the one counter margin necessary to insure their victory. The score was 3 to 2.

The Hurons started out in the second stanza to avenge the cold crow sandwiches that Shanghai jammed down their unwilling throats the day before, Radcliffe inaugurating the fireworks by slamming one at Wall on which the Smiler made a three base flub. Neal then cracked one at Holliday which Walter pegged wildly to first, Radcliffe registering to the tune of a whoopfest in the Huran section of the grandstand.

THE STORMY NINTH

That was all until our half of the ninth, by which time that one counter looked as juicy to the Hurons as a flock of wing clipped canaries to a famished tom cat. Mr. Draper, as proud as the snare drummer in a high school band, disposed of Holliday, first up, by holding him to a weak tap down the third base line, the same being gobbled by the ravenous Scymanski, who tossed the thirdsacker out at first.

Then up stepped the handsome Mr. Frederick Bills, Esquire, Shanghai's walking encyclopedia of baseball, with his gizzard full of iron and his eye full of blood, not to mention his hands, which were full of bats.

The navy flinger, looking the shortstopper over with a bit of contempt, and remembering that Frederick sometimes lets the the first one float by, had the temerity to groove it. Right then and there a deep, deathlike fear crept into the hearts of the Huron rooters and turned every maniack of them from howling maniacs into absolute dumb bells, of dumb waiters, or dumb bunnies, or whatever it is that has a voice and yet can produce no noise, not even a peep.

This transformation was wrought by the sight of a little baseball streaking down the rhubarian sky, as ominious to the Hurons as the inky cloak that darkened the Alaskan clouds the day Sam McGee was cremated.

The little baseball didn't streak any faster than Freddy did, at that, and if his clout hadn't bumped into the Parsee cricket club house and rebounded half way back to the scene of hostilities the shortstopper could have made the circuit. As it was he pulled up at third, where the anguished Mr. Scymanski was tearing his hair and waving frantically for the ball. Stonewall Wall, next up, bounced one at Lamke, who made such a desperate effort to head off the flying Bills at the plate that his heave was wide, Radcliffe barely getting his itching mitts on it.

That tied the party into a knot, and a knot it remained until the eleventh, in which session the Huron backstopper delivered the Brobdingnagian bust, previously bulletined, which spilled the beans for Hoppy's luckless crew.

We got one run in our half of that fatal session, but what good does one run do when you need two to tie. It's like having a few flag coppers in your sock when a hundred menacing shroffs are pounding on the front door, each with his fist enveloped in a pair of brass knucks and a sheaf of chits a foot thick under his arm.

Here are the figgered facts. If you can get any nourishment out of them you are a paid spy of the Hurons.

MRS. MALLORY DEFEATED BY MLLE. LENGLEN

(Reuter's Service)

Wimbledon, July 8.—There was a huge attendance, including their Majesties, at Wimbledon today. The weather was marred by showers. Mlle Lenglen retained the Championship by beating the American, Mrs. Mallory, 6-2, 6-0, in the final.

The appearance of Mlle Lenglen and Mrs. Mallory evoked most enthusiastic applause. The game was magnificent but at the outset it was obvious that Mrs. Mallory had little chance.

The champion dominated the game; a feature of which was wonderful volleying and miraculous recoveries. The second set was most brilliant.

The American was outpaced and outmaneuvered by Mlle Lenglen's beautiful forehand drives and strong backhand returns. It was probably the most easy final Mlle Lenglen ever had.

In the semi-final, Mr. Patterson beat Mr. Anderson, 6-1, 3-6, 7-9, 6-1, 6-3. It was a disappointing game. Both relied on the terrific pace of their service for scoring. Mr. Patterson, although he frequently doublefaulted, was vastly superior, Mr. Anderson rarely reaching his whirlwind deliveries.

'A' Company, British, Holds Monthly Shoot

"A" Company, British, fired their Monthly Cup Competitions for July on Saturday morning last. Weather was fine with no wind, but after the recent rains there was considerable haze with consequent low visibility. Pte. Fanthorpe scored a possible at 400 yards.

The number of competitors attending was somewhat better than last month, but still not good enough. New conditions were put in force which have the effect of admitting a competition if less competitors are present than the rules call for, by means of fixing a minimum score based upon a percentage of the H. P. S. in proportion to the number of members attending.

Undernoted are the best scores returned:

A Class	200 yds.	Practice 12	Practice 15	Total	H.P.S. H'cap	70 net
Cpl. R. W. Chapman	33	9	15	57	7%	53.01
L.-Cpl. P. D. Sullivan	30	9	12	51	7%	47.43
Pte. E. O. Wilson	30	6	15	54	18.75%	43.87

Cpl. Chapman wins 3rd leg on cup and spoon for highest score. Cup won outright. Future handicap 8.5%.

Summer is Here!

And that weary tired feeling is experienced by most of us. Work, that in normal health would not worry you in the least, becomes a positive burden. When you feel like that it is time to look for help in the shape of a reliable Tonic. "Bynogen" will give you health and nerve-power. Do not hesitate, but firmly resolve to begin a course of "Bynogen" at once.

Advertisers, Attention!

Beginning July 10th, an ARTISTIC LANTERN FAIR will be held for a period of three weeks in Verdun Garden, French Concession. There will be music, dancing, dramatics, and lantern displays. The exhibition will be open to Chinese and Foreigners alike and will be of an attractiveness that will draw many people to this park. The Verdun Garden is a fitting setting for such a Fair and will be able to accommodate the thousands of people who will undoubtedly attend the exposition.

This fair will offer excellent possibilities to place your name and product before the Shanghai public. It will give you an opportunity to reach both Foreign and Chinese potential buyers, particularly the latter. Advertising here will be of the type that will produce results and that will return to you in actual sales more than the money you will have expended.

If you wish to avail yourself of this opportunity, please write or telephone to our advertising agency

The Morning Society, Advertising Agency
320 TIENTSIN ROAD
Telephone C. 6600.

A Representative will call on you to consult on advertising matters connected with the Fair.

CHINA IS TAKING STEPS TO HALT BANDIT RAIDS

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, July 8.—Referring to the warnings given to the Chinese Government by the Japanese Government with regard to the Toutaokow incident, the authorities have made the following statement:—

Apropos of the incident, the Chinese Government already has expressed its deep sense of regret and is taking emergency measures. Immediately after the incident, the Japanese Government gave a warning to the Chinese Government and despatched police officers, to the menaced district. They now are endeavoring to protect the Japanese interests there in co-operation with the police staff at the Japanese Consulate at Chientao.

At present 500 Japanese police men are there, simply to protect lives and property of Japanese residents, not to take any positive action against mounted bandits. The Chinese authorities are held responsible for the curbing of mounted bandits and the maintenance of public peace.

Tokio, July 9.—Advices have been received by the authorities that some 300 mounted bandits made their appearance at a point 3 li distant from Chutzuchieh on July 7. They attacked a post of Chinese police-guards near Chutzuchieh taking captive seven Chinese police-guards.

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, July 7.—The Waichiaopu in confirming the previous accounts of the bandit outrage on Toutaokow, Chientao, stated that at 2 a.m. of the morning June 28th, a body of more than four hundred armed bandits descended on the town in a three sided attack.

One Chinese and one Japanese policeman and more than twenty Chinese merchants were taken captive. The policemen escaped a little later and returned. The guns and ammunition taken by the bandits also were recovered.

The Japanese report that the border country between Manchuria and Korea is being terrorised by these marauders, who number between 1300 and 1500 and that they are receiving endless appeals for protection. from Koreans in that district many of whom have been compelled to leave their farms and seek safety in the larger centers.

Thus far no Japanese troops have been sent into the affected area. Chang Tso-lin, as Inspector General, is responsible for the policing of Chientao and certain Japanese sources say that he is not confident of his ability to prevent these affairs and would welcome Japanese troops to take the worry off of his mind.

The city of Hungchun, further to the northeast of Toutaokow, was treated to a similar attack about two years ago, after which a Japanese force patroled the district until their withdrawal of a year ago. Negotiations for the settlement of property claims of that case have not been held yet by the Chinese Government.

(Reuter's Pacific service)

Peking, July 7.—Taoyin Yen has reported to the Government that upwards of 400 bandits suddenly appeared at Taiaokao and attacked that township on June 28. The Police and military guards resisted the attack, but were only partially successful. The Town Commandant, Mou Hsi-ling, was killed in action and a Japanese policeman, a Chinese policeman and twenty businessmen were taken away by the bandits when they retired. Later on the two policemen escaped returned. A quantity of arms and ammunition taken away by the bandits was subsequently recovered.

Belgian Minister Protests Rail Loan

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, July 7.—The Waichiaopu states with regard to reports that have recently appeared in the press that the Belgian Minister recently protested against the Cheng-Tai Railway being given as security for any loan as the revenues of that railway should continue to be paid into the Belgian Bank as security for the Belgian loan for its construction, in accordance with the original agreement.

Army Officers In Islands To Get Less Pay Under New Law

Foreign service pay, amounting to ten percent of the base pay, and mileage allowance has been taken from American army officers in the Philippine department, by the new army appropriations bill passed by Congress. According to information received in Shanghai it is not known whether or not, as yet, the cut includes officers on service in China, particularly the 15th infantry at Tientsin.

The mileage allowance, however, will effect all officers traveling in China and will make considerable difference as many army officers from the Philippines spend their leaves in China. Officers traveling in the United States draw 8 cents a mile but when they travel in foreign countries they will be remunerated only to the amount of their actual expenses when they are on official business, under the new bill.

Silesians Bitter Against French

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, July 8.—Bitterness against the French in Upper Silesia is most intense, according to a telegram from Oppeln.

A British soldier was mortally wounded while trying to separate French and German soldiers who had drawn revolvers against each other. There was much firing on the French troops evacuating Gross Strehlitz.

The Germans in another part of Upper Silesia boarded a French troop-train. One French soldier was killed and one wounded. In the ensuing fighting the British soldiers on the same train were not molested.

An All Star Cast with Lloyd Hughes

A MOTHER STORY THAT HITS THE GREATEST TARGET IN ALL THE WORLD—THE HUMAN HEART.

A real native American story with a real sweet, wonderful mother in it. There's a typical American farm, a stern, hard old father—tears and pathos—a delightful love story—action and excitement—big scenes. You'll go away with a memory of the old home town burned into your memory.

"Homespun Folks"

is not a cocktail drama. It has romance and tenderness; it has pathos and robust comedy; it has tenseness and the rush of melodramatic action—but it never loses that deft, magnetic, masterful something that makes it a pastoral epic.

The War Loan Balances

(New York Herald)

No fair minded person is likely to quarrel with David Lloyd George's position that Great Britain should not be expected to cancel war debts due her unless war debts against her also are forgiven. On the other hand, it may not be amiss to examine his rather loosely calculated total of how the financial transactions among the Allies compare as to the debts and credits of each.

Mr. Lloyd George speaks of the three billions of pounds sterling owed to Great Britain as against the one billion pounds Great Britain owes. But in the first place, it is scarcely admissible to include in war lendings and borrowings reparations owed by Germany. In the next place, it is customary in balancing credits against debits to take into account what credits are good credits and what credits are poor credits.

Mr. F. C. Goodenough, the great English banker, chairman of the board of Barclay's Bank, Limited, addressing the American Chamber of Commerce in London the other day, stated the interallied borrowings and lendings in distinctly different terms from those of Mr. Lloyd George.

Ignoring ordinary foreign debts as well as internal debts, pre-war and post-war, Mr. Goodenough compared the principal war lendings of the United States and the United Kingdom, as follows:

	Debt to U. S.
U. K.	$4,166,000,000
France	3,351,000,000
Italy	1,648,000,000
Russia	193,000,000
Belgium	375,000,000
Total	$9,733,000,000

	Debt to U. K.
U. K.	.....
France	$2,710,000,000
Italy	2,320,000,000
Russia	2,730,000,000
Belgium	500,000,000
Total	$8,260,000,000

In round numbers, then, these principal war lendings by Great Britain of some $8,260,000,000 measure up against the principal items of $9,700,000,000 lent by the United States. But note this difference: the Russian war debt to the United Kingdom is at present a very doubtful asset and yet amounts in round numbers to $2,700,000,000 as against the less than $200,000,000 lent to Russia by the United States.

Furthermore, the Italian war debt to the United Kingdom is roughly $2,300,000,000 as against the $1,648,000,000 of the Italian war debt to the United States. While this Italian debt is by no means to be considered a poor loan, it will be, at least, as everybody sympathetically realises, generations before it can be wiped out or even heavily reduced if there is no cancellation of debts.

The great bulk of the American war loans, in other words, contrasting strongly with the British loans, is perfectly good money—more than seven and a half billions of dollars out of the foregoing nine and three-quarters billions being due from Great Britain and France together. As for Great Britain's share of the thirty-two billions of dollars in gold assessed upon Germany for reparations, Mr. Lloyd George himself is the frankest statesman in Europe to declare that it cannot be paid. Why, therefore, count it as if it were collectible?

But aside and apart from the consideration of how much the United States lent among the Allies and how good it is as against how much Great Britain lent and how good it is, there is the question of the only right way to do the cancellation if there is to be cancellation. The attitude of The New York Herald is that if the nations involved in international war borrowing and lending and the international war debts owed on any score ever do get down to the business of forgiveness of such debts, no plan will be tolerable that does not propose making a clean sweep of everything, reparations and all.

The Ventnor Pearl Problem

It is too bad that Solomon is dead, says The New York Herald, which continues: He would have so delighted in sitting in judgment on the Ventnor Pearl Problem and deciding the ownership, as he did in the famous case of the rival claimants to the baby.

The facts may be stated briefly: Lottie Gray, in preparing dinner at the home of Mrs. O. J. Hammell of Ventnor, New Jersey, president of the League of Women Voters, sampled one of the clams she was opening. She nearly choked in her efforts to overcome an obstacle which she believed was a marble. Mrs. Hammell, attracted by the excitement, hit the maid several sharp raps on the back, and with this stimulation Lottie coughed up a giant pearl, "reflecting all the colors of the rainbow."

She refused to surrender the pearl, though her mistress insisted, so Lottie left her job, consulted counsel, who advised her that her title was clear, and so the case stands at present.

It should really be fought out in the courts and, if necessary, carried up to the Supreme Court, that the nation need not stay awake nights all summer trying to work out to whom the pearl belongs.

Without presuming to anticipate the Supreme Court, there are certain phases which should be considered.

Was Lottie exercising her official duty in sampling the clams within her hours of service, or was this on her own time, between periods of her assigned duty?

Was she hired at so much a month and "found"? If so, was the contract operative when she found the pearl?

Under the law the finder of lost property is allowed to retain it until it is claimed by the owner and ownership proved. Had the pearl been lost at all? If so, who lost it? Had the pearl been owned at all? What are the rights of the clam seller?

If Lottie acquired her right by retrieving the pearl from the clam, did her mistress acquire equal right by retrieving it from the depths of Lottie by sharp raps on the back?

Is the whole thing a conspiracy on the part of the housekeepers of Ventnor to make domestic service a lottery of joy by planting pearls in unsuspecting clams designed for ultimate home consumption?

Was there not contributory negligence on the part of Mrs. Hammell, if she owned the pearl, to leave it in the care of a mere clam?

Under the employers' liability law has an employer a right to endanger the health and life of an employee by leaving pearls as big as marbles in the food?

Those are searching questions. Can we expect our servants to supervise our clams properly and search daily for pearls if we get into the habit of demanding their findings?

Don't Neglect Your Family.

When you fail to provide your family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy at this season of the year, you are neglecting them, as bowel Complaint is sure to be prevalent and it is too dangerous a malady to be trifled with. This is especially true if there are children in the family. A dose or two of this remedy will place the trouble within control and perhaps save a life, or at least a doctor's bill. Sold Everywhere.

Keeping Out Of Ruts

BY W. G. JORDAN

Thomas A. Edison says he succeeds by keeping out of ruts. This may be a partial explanation of his genius, but it is more likely that he succeeds because of a combination of mental qualities and characteristics that keep him out of ruts.

Edison has kept his mind alive, active and alert by being interested in everything. Here, with all his big electrical and mechanical problems, he is submitting to the Government a plan to have it build great storage warehouses for farmers.

His mind is constantly analysing, testing, digesting all that comes within his ken. It is done so constantly, so automatically that everything he has in his mind is in constant circulation.

There are no thick strata of dead memories.

He constantly thinks and reasons by analogy, along the lines of a principle; what he sees in the line illuminates his thinking in a dozen others, what he knows of one thing makes him understand with the lightning revelation of intuition something seemingly different but identical in essence.

Few of us think in terms of principle but rather by rule.

A rule is like a key that opens one lock; a principle is a pass-key that opens hundreds of locks.

The great words in life by which we question and analyse all begin with the same letter "W." They are who, why, what, which, when, where and how (here the W is at the other end).

Facing facts relentlessly with these words makes them deliver every secret, shows them in all relations, digests, assimilates and transforms them to mental power with the same finality that the digestive juices of the stomach transform physical food into blood, brawn, muscle, tissue, vitality.

Edison's mind is constantly searching, constantly classifying, constantly storing away. While he was experimenting on the telephone, years and years ago, he wandered into the studio of a sculptor friend.

He proved to be a human interrogation point, questioning everything.

At last, indicating one substance, he asked what it was; he was told it was modeling wax, and its nature and uses were explained. "I can use that," he said. He did—in the telephone.

Try Edison's method of keeping out of ruts by cultivating genuine interests, by wide sympathies, by wideawake analysis, by reasoning principle, by keen observation, by keeping the joy-note of real love for life thoroughly active, and the powers will grow by use.

Science Queries And Replies

BY EDGAR L. LARKIN

Director of Lowe Observatory

"I was standing by the seashore and wondered if any power beside the attraction of the moon causes the tides?"—E. C. Westcott, Sacramento, Cal.

Yes, the attraction exerted by the sun helps about two-fifths.

Does no the ray of light reaching the eye denote the position of a star at the moment the light emanated from it, perhaps hundreds of thousands of years ago?—Clarence M. Allen, Far Rockaway, New York.

No. The observer thinks the star is in direction from which the light enters the eye.

The formation of the ninety-two elemental atoms is purely physical, is it not? This does not conflict with activity and the mind within?—Wm. W. Weitling, College Point, New York.

None knows whether atoms are formed from electrons by physical means. As I have written during seventeen years: Electrons know how, when and where to form themselves into atoms of all the elements, or are directed by an external force that knows—the process of atom building being one of knowing. If mind is within electrons the process is activity; if without, directivity. But since none knows what mind and electricity are, the grand problem of activity or directivity is not solved.

Are time and space infinite? Is space infinite in the Euclidian sense of a line that goes on straight into eternity?—William K. Bock, Verona, N. J.

Humans know nothing about infinity. If a straight line goes "on and on" forever it would be straight forever and never return to itself, i.e., to its first end. But if it had a first end it is not infinite, not eternal. All thoughts on this subject seem futile to me.

"One leads where many follow."

Hall's Distemper has led the way to a new era in house decoration—the era of brighter, cleaner and healthier homes.

It is the most durable of all decorations, lasting for years with freshness unimpaired, whereas wall-papers deteriorate from the first day by fading and accumulating dust and dirt.

Hall's Distemper is a thorough disinfectant, and is applied directly upon the wall, forming a hard surface, from which dust and dirt may be "spring-cleaned" by lightly sponging with warm water.

Hall's Distemper (Registered Trade Mark) is a unique preparation and has the recommendation of leading sanitary authorities, architects, and decorators everywhere.

Avoid disappointment by refusing substitutes which do not possess its advantages.

Dangerous Dynamite Lodged In Mind Stuff

BY DR. CHARLES FLEISCHER

A young man lately committed suicide because he could not keep his feet from following his soaring soul.

He appears to have had too much "religion," or too many varieties of it, for his mind to digest and assimilate.

You can have too much of even a good thing.

He worked in a book shop, where he had access to scores and scores of volumes dealing with occult phenomena and psychology and psycho-analysis and all manner of treatises dealing with the unknown and the unknowable.

These he read and devoured and gorged until he had a perfect case of spiritual dyspepsia.

When he had gone beyond the possibility of recovering the health of his soul and had completely lost his mental poise he tried the final experiment to discover what death might reveal.

What now he knows we know not. But the newspapers and vital statistics vulgarly set him down as a suicide.

We mean to sue him in this connection as literally a "horrible example" of the mischievous menace of much of the well-meant pursuit of truth in our day.

It is perfectly obvious that hosts of modern men and women, old and young, have given up, or have never had, affiliations with any of the traditional forms of faith.

Nevertheless, they want Religion. For the nature of man is incurably religious.

Hosts of others, still maintaining a nominal connection with the faith of their fathers honestly feel unsatisfied and earnestly seek to supplement the meagre satisfaction of their inherited religion.

All of these are in a dangerous state of mind. Not merely because atheism threatens, and agnosticism is probable; but because mental anarchism is likely, and such a state of loneliness and restlessness and unbearable longing as may make life unsupportable.

One recalls the pathetic statement of Felix Romanes, one of the great scientists of the Darwinian period, to the effect that, with the virtual denial of God, the universe had lost for him its soul of loveliness.

It is altogether creditable to any one to try to understand for himself the terrible mystery of life and of death, and to seek to have original experience of their hidden meaning.

You better not experiment or undertake original research, if you are not endowed or have not acquired the necessary equipment of a sane soul, a clear mind, a poised personality, and a strong will.

Consider such names as Jesus, Moses and Isaiah, Buddha, Confucius, Zoroaster, Socrates, Plato and Aristotle. This small list, which can be lengthened but little, will tell you how few men have been able to add to the world's store of thought and knowledge on the ultimate concerns of religion.

It is right to try to seek for spiritual truth. But it is even better to keep sane and to continue alive.

If you know the sweet pain of sublime discontent, probably your inherited form of faith still has further satisfactions to reward your eager search for truth.

If your restlessness sets you adrift, then realise the courage and the chances involved in making for the open sea of thought in your little boat.

In either case, here's a wave of good will to you, and a wish for the success of your aspirations!

Boys And Dogs

The matter with Kansas, says an exchange, is just now centered in Emporia. The most gifted and prominent citizen of that town, William Allen White, is having an intellectual hot spell because the city officials offered the boys of Emporia 25 cents apiece for every stray dog brought to the city pound to be killed.

A boy who would do such a thing, says Mr. White in his paper, the Emporia Gazette, ought to be killed himself. We can't go as far as this with the Hon. William, but in the main his indignation is justified. It isn't a matter of saving the dog but of saving the boy. Stray dogs ought to be picked up and humanely disposed of; it is best for them as well as for the community. But let the work be done by grown men, men whose moral fiber can stand the twist of carting off a stray dog to the lethal pound. A Kansan of the Ed. Howe type would not do. Ed Howe is too cynical; he would lecture the dog on the evils of failure, for manifestly a stray dog is not a success and Ed Howe admires Success more than anything else.

Dogs have a lot of faith in boys. Not even the years of tin can episodes have destroyed their confidence, and boys don't tie cans to dogs' tails any longer, for boys are too busy with cycles, motor cars, motion pictures and radio to seek cruel amusement. A dog thinks a boy is an institution created to play with him, just as he thinks a lawn party is the place to shake himself when he is wet. In return for being played with the dog gives to the boy an example of sincerity and patience.

If it ever entered the dog mind that a boy was a creature whose function it was to sell stray dogs to the executioner for the price of a couple of the cream sodas the whole balance of youth would be upset.

It is amazing that any Kansas town ever fell into the error which William Allen White rebukes. There must be plenty of grown men out there—retired politicians and the like—who can do the dog catching.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

What is Castoria?

CASTORIA is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Comfort—The Mother's Friend.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper of genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"My patients invariably praise the action of your Castoria." W. W. TURVER M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I use your Castoria and advise its use to all families where there are children." J. W. DUNDALAS, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"During my medical practice I know of several cases where your Castoria was prescribed and used with good results." K. MORGNER, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"Your Castoria is the best remedy in the world for children and the only one I use and recommend." ALBERT V. SWITZLAND, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"Your Castoria is certainly the greatest remedy for children I know of. I know no other proprietary preparation which is its equal." B. S. SCHWARTZ, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

"I have used your Castoria as a purgative in the cases of children for years past with most happy effect, and fully endorse it as a safe remedy." H. D. BENNER, M. D., Philadelphia, Pa.

Exchange Fluctuations
Asia Banking Corporation
July 10, 1922
Spot bar silver was up ¼d. and forward ⅛d. in London on Saturday.
The New York price advanced to 71½ cents, and the London-New York cross rate to 444½.
The official Sterling rate this morning was raised to 3-6½, the Gold Dollar rate to 78¾, the Yen rate dropped to 61, and the other rates changed in proportion.
As, however, the market was weak at the opening, the Sterling T-T rate was subsequently dropped to 3-6, and the other rates changed to those ruling on Saturday.
After the change in rates the market for a time was easy, business in Sterling being done at 3-6, and in Gold Dollars at 78 for practically all deliveries to September.
Banks, however, were good sellers at this level, and rates steadied up, a good business being done in Sterling at rates varying between 3s. 6¼d. and 3s. 6⅝d. for all deliveries up to the end of the year, and in Gold Dollars at 78½. The market closed steady with sellers of Sterling at 3s. 6⅝d. and of Gold Dollars at 78½.
There were a few bills offering and some four months' sight Franc bills being done at 1025.
India bought silver in London on Saturday, and the market there is reported as steady, as is also the New York Market.
